Wedding Photography Prices 2015

Natural Wedding Photography

My wedding photography, like my family photography, is done is a 'reportage' style, informal and unposed. As a documentary photographer, I feel that this style can provide a fuller and better record of the day as a whole than formal group photos.

Rather than reacting to the camera, the couple and their guests are photographed interacting with each other, giving a feel to the pictures which is often more in tune with the experience of being there. When photographing a wedding I aim to blend in, rather than take over, and get pictures of people just enjoying the special day.

Most couples like a few group shots too, and I'm happy to do some alongside the informal pictures if you wish.

Please note that some venues allow photography of the wedding service itself and some don't, and I have to abide by this. If you would like photos during the ceremony, just give me the contact details for the venue and I will ask.

Family Occasions and Events

As well as weddings, I also take a similar approach to photographing other events such as civil partnerships, parties, anniversaries; any kind of social event where people mix and interact. Please contact me with the details for a quote.

I also run a variety of 'photobooths' for weddings and events, please see my website for details.

Wedding Photography Packages

I offer two basic packages for wedding photography; these can be customised to suit your needs, so please contact me to discuss what you would like and get a quote.

Package 1 - Ceremony

What's included:

- Pre-wedding meeting to discuss your requirements for the photographs and all the details for the day.
- Where practical, I will also visit the venue prior to the wedding to check out the light and potential shots.
- 3 - 4 hours photography on the day, which will include :
    - guests, family and couple arriving
    - photographs of the ceremony (if required by you and permitted by the venue)
    - signing of the register (if required by you)
    - couple, family and guests after the wedding, until everybody has left the venue for the reception
    - family and guests arriving and socialising at reception venue
    - some group shots as agreed with you before at the pre-wedding meeting
- At least 100 high resolution photos supplied on CD. These will be processed and ready to print at up to A4 size. For best results use a good photo lab or an inkjet printer with photo paper. You are free to print as many as you like and give the files to friends and family too if you wish.
- An online gallery, so that friends and family can view the photos using a password given to you and your guests. They can order prints via the gallery if they wish. The gallery will be online for 3 months.
- The option to order professionally produced prints of your favourite photos.
- 2 copies of the CD, so you can send one to friends and family.

Package 2 - Whole Day

What's included:

- Pre-wedding meeting to discuss your requirements for the photographs and all the details for the day.
- Where practical, I will also visit the venue prior to the wedding to check out the light and potential shots.
